Our Business:

1. Introduction – Service Philosophy

Welcome to Dominion Blue! You have joined an organization where team members work together to provide the best service possible to our customers and to the community.

Our company's success and growth is as a direct result of team effort, and it is through this that we will continue to grow. The 'team' is you, me and everyone who works at Dominion Blue. Each of us has one over-riding goal which is to give our customers help in achieving their needs in a way that exceeds their expectations.

And our secret: It's their expectations that must be exceeded.

Just as we strive to provide superior service to our customers, Team Members are also encouraged to support each other:

Be supportive, resourceful and help your fellow team members on a day to day basis.

We welcome and encourage your ideas. If you have any questions about our policies, or if you think there ought to be changes that will make them easier to understand or more clear, please speak to your Supervisor. If there is any information your Supervisor can't provide, please ask a manager.

Alternatively, suggestions can be submitted via the POPS form (Positives/Opportunities/Problems/Suggestions) on our company Intranet site.

From time to time, based on the needs of the company, Dominion Blue reserves the right to amend its policies and practices. We will notify you of any changes to these policies and procedures as they occur.

2. Our Mission Statement

Our Mission Statement has two parts and is our most important principle. All of the policies in this booklet are guided by it.

- We will give our customers help in achieving their needs in ways that exceed their expectations.
- Within the company, we will give each other help in achieving customers' needs in ways that exceed everybody's expectations.

Although this may sound easy to achieve, it's not simple. This may come naturally to some but for most of us, it's something that we constantly need to work at. It is one of the main components of your job description.

We (and more likely, our customers) may ask you to do work for which you were not specifically hired to do. We have an expectation that when things are slow in your area, you volunteer to help out in a busier area. We're a service business, and everyone here has, at one time or another, had to go beyond the bounds of their job description in order to fulfill our Mission Statement's goals. That's just one of the reasons why we're a success.

And the reason why those two parts of our Mission Statement are so important is because they guarantee the continuation of your job, as well as ours. Customers that are pleasantly surprised by our work will return. Co-workers who are pleasantly surprised by your work will be motivated to respond in kind. And, that helps you to "exceed our customers' expectations".

3. Privacy of Personal Information Policy

As a result of recent federal and provincial legislation, we have further strengthened our privacy commitment on personal information by adhering to the following ten principles as set out in the federal Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA) as a minimum standard:

a) Accountability

We are responsible for all personal information under our control and will designate one or more individuals who will be responsible for our compliance with the policies and procedures.

b) Identifying Purposes

We will identify the purposes for which we collect personal information at or before the time the information is collected.

c) Consent

We will obtain the appropriate consent from individuals for the collection, use or disclosure of their personal information, except where the law provides an exemption.

d) Limiting Collection

The personal information we collect will be limited to that which is necessary for the purposes we have identified.

e) Limiting Use, Disclosure and Retention

Personal information will not be used or disclosed for purposes other than those for which it was collected, except with the consent of the individual or as required by law. We will only retain personal information as long as necessary for the fulfillment of those purposes.

f) Accuracy

The personal information we collect will be as accurate, complete and up-to-date as is necessary for the purposes for which it is to be used.

g) Safeguards

We will safeguard the security of personal information under our control in a manner that is appropriate to the sensitivity of the information.

h) Openness

We will make readily available to individuals specific information about our policies and procedures relating to the management of personal information which is under our control.

i) Individual Access

Upon request, an individual will be informed of the existence, use and disclosure of his or her personal information which is under our control. This individual may be given access to the information and may choose to challenge the accuracy and completeness of it.

j) Challenging Compliance

An individual may address a challenge concerning compliance with the above policies and procedures to our Privacy Officers, John Bingham and Brian Lowe.

4. Copyright/ Trademark Policy

Copyright and Trademark law dictates that we (Dominion Blue and its Associates) require written permission from the copyright holder in order to reproduce any copyrighted work. This would include all printed media, photographs, digital copyright (Protecting Intellectual Property), electronic media (CD, DVD, Software, Etc.). There are no exceptions.

Summary of Canadian Copyright Law

Canadian copyright law is governed by the Copyright Act, which protects original literary, artistic, musical and dramatic works. A partial list of works which are entitled to copyright protection in Canada includes: books, newspapers, dictionaries, manuals, catalogues, magazines, pamphlets, computer software, paintings, drawings, design trade-marks, sculptures, architectural works, engravings, dramatic works, photographs, films, videos, scripts, maps, lyrics and musical works.

One very significant right granted to the owner of Canadian copyright in a work, is the exclusive right to reproduce the work, (or any substantial part of the work) in any material form whatever.

For example, the owner of copyright in a book has the right to stop others from making copies of the book, (or any substantial part of the book), whether the copying is by way of a commercial printer, a photocopy machine, or by way of a computer image/text scanner.

In addition to acquiring the exclusive right to copy the work, the owner of copyright in a work also receives an entire "bundle" of rights, some of which are specific to the type of work in question. For example, in the case of a dramatic work, copyright includes the right to convert the dramatic work into a novel. In the case of computer software, it includes the right to rent the software to others. Each different type of work has its own bundle of copyrights.

Copyright comes into existence automatically, at the time the work was created, and, in the case of most works, it continues until the end of the calendar year in which the author of the work dies (regardless of whether the author has sold or assigned the copyright in the work or not), and continues for an additional period of 50 years. There are some notable exceptions to this rule however. One such exception relates to photographs, which are protected by copyright from the time the photograph was taken, up until the end of the calendar year in which the photograph was taken, and for an additional period of 50 years (that is, the termination date of copyright protection for photographs is linked to the date the photograph was taken, and not the date of the photographer's death).

Copyright in a work may be assigned or licensed to others. All assignments and licenses of copyright must be in writing to be valid. The mere transfer of physical possession of a work does not thereby include an assignment of copyright in the work.

Each work in which copyright subsists should be marked with a notice in the following form: "© Smith and Company, 1996". That is, the notice should display the copyright symbol ©, followed by the name of the owner of copyright, followed by the year in which the work was published. This notice is to be displayed in such manner and location as to give reasonable notice of a claim of copyright in the work

Your Employment

1. Employment Standards

The Employment Standards Act of British Columbia governs how we treat our Team Members. All of our policies are designed to meet or exceed those standards.

For more information go to: <http://www.labour.gov.bc.ca/esb/esaguide/>

2. Hours of Business

Our work day is from 7:45AM to 7:00PM, Monday to Friday and 9:00AM to 5:00PM on Saturdays. Your hours will be assigned to you from time to time. Our expectations are that you arrive at least 10 minutes before your shift so that you are on site and starting work when your shift begins.

The hours of operation for different locations/departments are as follows:

Monday to Friday

Customer Service:	from 7:45AM to 5:30 PM (Main Shop)
Production:	from 7:45AM to 6:00 PM
Branch Operations:	8:00AM to 5:00PM (Richmond, Burnaby, North Shore)

Note: These hours are subject to change with notice.

3. Probation

This is a period of time in which we consider whether you are the right fit for the job and for working with our customers.

For our permanent Team Members the probationary period is three (3) consecutive months of service. If you are absent for a total of 5 days or more, your probationary period will be extended by that amount of time. Your probationary period may also be extended if it is determined you need more time to demonstrate your ability to do the job. During that period, we expect you to ask questions about how we do a specific aspect of the job, and while we don't expect full performance, we expect that your performance will steadily improve.

During this time, you can be terminated at any point and without notice. If that happens, you have the right to be treated with respect. You also have the right to be paid in full up to the moment of your termination under the terms of your work agreement with us.

Once you have successfully completed your probationary period, you become a permanent Team Member and will be given a progress report.

4. Employment Status

a) Permanent

A permanent Team Member is one who has completed their probationary period and who works a full 40-hour week. They are eligible for all remuneration benefits and programs offered by Dominion Blue.

b) Part Time

A part-time Team Member is one who works less than 40 hours per week, and is paid on an hourly basis. Part-time Team Members are not eligible for any company remuneration benefits, but they have the right to be otherwise treated as equals in all of Dominion Blue's endeavors.

5. Lateness

Lateness not only impacts your ability to do your job effectively but also affects your co-workers. If you are going to be late for the start time of your job you must call your direct Supervisor as soon as you become aware of the problem. Lateness will be monitored and the situation reviewed if we feel there is abuse.

6. Payroll

a) Getting paid

Payroll is processed semi-monthly, on the 15th and the last day of each month. Where the pay day falls on a weekend or holiday, you will receive your pay on the last business day before the 15th or the 1st of the month.

Your pay is deposited directly to your bank account. You will receive a pay statement on each pay day. We recommend that you review your pay stub carefully to ensure that your hours, vacation pay, benefits, etc. had been processed properly.

Note: Overtime* pay or some other type of lump payment due to you is paid on the following pay cheque.

By law, we must withhold from your pay-cheque the following:

- Federal and Provincial income taxes
- Employment Insurance premiums
- Canada Pension Plan contributions
- Dominion Blue Benefits Plan premiums, if appropriate.

b) Emergency Contact

For the safety and well-being of our Team Members, we will collect and maintain emergency contact information from each employee to ensure that such information shall be readily available if required.

All Team Members must complete a "Home & Emergency Contact Information" Form that consists of employee address, phone numbers, allergies (if you wish to disclose any), physician information and a personal emergency contact that the employee would want notified in an emergency situation. Employees are responsible for ensuring information remains up to date.

This information is kept in a secure location and is regarded as personal and confidential. Emergency contact information will only be utilized in a genuine emergency situation where it becomes necessary to contact an individual's self-identified contact person.

c) Address Changes

Your Supervisor and the Payroll Department must be informed immediately of a change of address and/or phone number.

d) Personal Advances, Loans

We do not provide loans or advances on your pay, nor are staff allowed to put IOU's in the cash register.

e) Expenses

If you have been authorized to use your own money or credit card for company business, you will be reimbursed. For reimbursement, an Expense Form must be completed (with receipts attached) and submitted to your supervisor. Expense Forms are available from your Supervisor.

7. Overtime

Customers often require their projects to be completed using hard-and-fast deadlines, and that means we sometimes require our Team Members to work overtime. (Overtime must be authorized in advance by your supervisor.)

Overtime is paid at 1½ times your regular rate for more than eight (8) hours per work day, and double time for time in excess of twelve (12) hours per work day. Overtime is paid in accordance with B.C. Employment Standards.

We'll always do our best to provide you with as much notice as possible when we require you to stay overtime. Please understand that often, we do not receive much notice ourselves due to last minute customer requests.

Overtime compensation will be paid in the pay period following the one in which you worked the overtime. If you prefer to take time off in lieu of being paid overtime, the time you take off must be approved by your Supervisor. Approval will take into consideration the projects expected as well as requests from other Team Members during that same time period.

8. Dress Code

Dominion Blue's business appropriate dress code conveys the Company's commitment to quality and professionalism. It's important to the success of our Company that all members of the Dominion Blue Team project a professional image to our customers and clients.

a) All Team Members

All team members are expected to be well groomed and dress in a neat, clean and business-like manner; ready to represent Dominion Blue at any time should they encounter a customer or client.

b) Customer Service / Branch Team Members

Pants/shorts, to be worn with the provided Dominion Blue Shirt, must be a "Docker" style and either black, navy blue, gray or khaki (no jeans please).

Suggested footwear would be comfortable business or casual shoes (brown, black or beige). No sneakers, sandals or industrial work boots.

Should your position change at Dominion Blue, shirts are to be laundered and returned to your supervisor. All team members are expected to use good judgment in determining washing, ironing, maintenance and repair of their shirts. Please see care instructions on garments.

Thank you for helping us to maintain our corporate image.

9. Training & Development

You are encouraged to upgrade your skills and knowledge and remain current in today's and tomorrow's technologies. Information regarding courses can be obtained from your Supervisor.

For permanent Team Members time-off for courses relevant to your job may be permitted subject to your Supervisor's approval and taking into consideration the projects expected and the requests of other Team Members during that time period.

10. Performance Evaluations

Performance Evaluations take place periodically as well as on your anniversary with the company. They help in tracking your progress, note accomplishments as well as highlight areas where more attention or guidance may be required. Evaluations will be based on accomplishments to date as well as the responsibilities defined for your position. Feedback from supervisors and managers will be solicited.

Our Workplace

1. Harassment Free Environment

Dominion Blue is committed to providing a respectful workplace free from harassment of any kind.

You have the right to be treated with respect – and we expect you to treat others with equal respect. Dominion Blue does not condone any behavior that is likely to undermine the dignity, self-esteem or productivity of a Team Member. If you believe you are the target of this type of behavior please talk to your Supervisor. All discussions will be kept confidential.

Any confirmed instances of workplace harassment will result in disciplinary action, which could include termination.

a) Disagreement Resolution / Team Member Disputes

There is always a dynamic tension between various aspects of a company like Dominion Blue; the way people interpret our Mission Statement often means they have strong opinions about how best to serve our customers.

While this dynamic tension is healthy, letting it get out of balance or letting it get personal is not. A conflict over personalities makes it just as difficult to implement our goals as does a conflict over working methods. Both require patience, understanding and compromise.

When there are differences of opinion which, in your opinion, prevents you from doing what you believe is right under the Mission Statement, we expect you to make significant efforts to resolve them quickly.

If there is an issue between two of you, you must always attempt to resolve the issue between yourselves and not involve anyone else. Once an issue goes beyond the two of you it expands in scope and impacts the workplace. Before that happens you must follow the resolution process outlined below. You have the right to ensure your point of view is considered. Go to the next step only if the earlier step fails; if you skip a step you will be required to go back and complete it before continuing the procedure.

Here is the process we expect you to take:

- 1) Speak to the other person, politely and privately, in an effort to resolve the difficulty. Keep the conversation oriented on work, not personalities, and keep it positive.
- 2) Speak to your Supervisor, politely and privately. The Supervisor will ask you if you have tried to resolve it privately, and may ask the other person to attend a meeting with you both.
- 3) Speak to the senior manager of Dominion Blue. Again, you will be asked what steps you took to resolve the situation, and the senior Manager may require you to attend a meeting involving the Supervisor and the others involved. Again, you have the right to have your views considered.

- 4) The Manager's decision is final, and we expect you to respect that decision, or tender your resignation.

2. No Tolerance Policy

The use or presence of alcohol and drugs during working hours is a serious and grave safety issue. It will not be tolerated and may result in immediate dismissal. Please see as attached Dominion Blue's Cannabis, Drug and Alcohol Policy - page 22.

Theft of company property is an offence that will result in immediate dismissal.

Workplace Harassment will not be tolerated and may result in dismissal.

3. Confidentiality – Electronic Security / Conduct-Email and Internet

We often deal with customer's confidential material. You must respect that confidentiality. All files, software or other computer storage devices are to be kept on the premises of Dominion Blue and trade secrets of our clients must remain their trade secrets. Any infraction of this confidentiality policy will be dealt with in a very serious manner. Upon hiring, you signed an Employment Agreement agreeing to this confidentiality policy.

To support the business, telephone, voice mail systems, e-mail, Internet access, fax machines, computers, copy machines and other equipment/services may be made available for your use.

These systems are intended solely for business use in order to facilitate business communications and increase efficiency. As such, all electronic communications transmitted, received or stored by or through the company's information systems or other machines are considered company property.

Some issues to consider:

- Be careful about discussions of sensitive materials outside our facilities, in such places as: elevators, restaurants, trains, buses, airplanes, hotels, building lobbies, etc.
- Do not discuss, show or share confidential information to any outsiders or non-involved employees – unless they have a true "need-to-know," and the President has approved it.
- We do not participate in telephone calls requesting surveys or questionnaires. Any requests should be redirected to a Supervisor.
- Be aware of privacy issues when faxing, e-mailing, messaging, or shipping materials or information.
- Remember to remove confidential materials from desks and other areas. Lock file cabinets containing confidential materials before you leave for the day.
- An employee should accompany visitors at all times. If you see someone who is unescorted, ask that person pleasantly if you can direct him or her.
- The office should be secured properly when the last person leaves for the evening. Team Members who are working early, late or on weekends or are in the office alone should make sure that doors are locked and use good judgment and common sense in all matters of safety. (View Safety Procedures 'opening and lockup' on the companies Intranet.)

Some basic rules to follow:

- Remember that all equipment and software assigned to you remains our property.
- All software installed on company-owned computers is governed by copyright and licensing agreements. Unless you're authorized, don't copy or distribute software.
- Ensure you obtain the appropriate pre-approval if you need to purchase software for work (with your own money) and you expect to be reimbursed.
- No personal software is allowed to be installed on company-owned computers.
- All information stored on a company-owned computer is the property of Dominion Blue.
- Confidential files should only be accessed by authorized employees. Unauthorized access or attempted access is not allowed.

Violations of this policy may result in corrective action up to and including termination.

a) E-mail

No one who works at Dominion Blue should have any expectation of privacy when using company equipment to send or receive messages. All messages transmitted, received or stored by or through Dominion Blue's information systems are considered the property of Dominion Blue. Therefore, if you use equipment, including voice mail or e-mail, for personal purposes (which is not permitted), we are unable to guarantee that your communications will be private. Use of Dominion Blue's equipment to transmit messages that may be considered offensive or improper is strictly prohibited.

We may monitor the use of our equipment and the contents of communications, should we deem it necessary for business purposes. All messages that do not have a business purpose or are offensive or inappropriate may be deleted.

Protect your password security. It's your responsibility, and you will be presumed to be the author of anything created on your password-protected system.

It is strictly prohibited to:

- Access a file or to retrieve any stored communication unless you've been authorized to do so.
- Download, install and /or operate unauthorized streaming media programs, applications and devices.
- Use other users' passwords without authorization.
- Install a private password system that is unknown to us.
- Display or disseminate materials of a sexual, pornographic, racist, sexist or otherwise offensive nature.
- DO NOT open any suspicious or unsolicited e-mails. A computer virus can severely affect our ability to do business.

b) Internet

Access to the Internet has been provided to Team Members for the benefit of the company and our members. When using the Internet, every Team Member has a responsibility to maintain and enhance Dominion Blue's public image, and to use the Internet in a productive manner. To ensure that all Team Members are responsible, productive Internet users and are protecting the company's public image, the following guidelines have been established.

- Internet use is reserved for business purposes. If you're accessing the Internet from company-owned equipment, you are representing Dominion Blue, and all communications should be for professional reasons only. All Internet activity accessed via Dominion Blue's equipment is traceable back to Dominion Blue. Please use extreme care and caution when accessing the Internet from Dominion Blue at all times. You're responsible for ensuring that anytime you access the Internet from Dominion Blue or representing Dominion Blue, you use it in an effective, ethical and lawful manner.
- Unacceptable business use of the Internet includes use for personal entertainment, personal communication, advancement of individual views, on-line shopping, auctions, chat rooms, securities trading or monitoring or for personal gain. (This list is not meant to be all-inclusive, but rather represents the types of Internet use that are inappropriate for the professional workplace. If in doubt as to the appropriateness, err on the side of caution and discuss with your supervisor.) Use of the Internet must not disrupt the operation of the company in any way, and it must not interfere with your productivity.
- No unauthorized downloading of any software (see 3a page 12) is permitted. This is to prevent computer viruses from being transmitted through the system. Only files from reputable, known sources may be downloaded as necessary for specific business reasons and ONLY with the authorization of the Dominion Blue IT department.
- All messages created, sent or retrieved over the Internet are the property of Dominion Blue. We reserve the right to access and monitor all messages and files on the computer system as deemed necessary and appropriate. Internet messages are public communication and are not private.

Because of the evolving nature of technology, this policy is not intended to be comprehensive, and conduct not specifically mentioned that violates the spirit of this policy may also, at our discretion, result in corrective action up to and including termination.

4. Texting / Phone Calls

Texting (and emailing) our network of friends and family is the primary way that many people connect. While working, continuous vibrations/sounds and checking of these accounts will interrupt your work focus, and be disruptive to you and the team's work. We ask that you please refrain from using your mobile devices inappropriately i.e. in front of customers, etc. If you are inclined to check your messages and email, we ask that you do so during appropriate times and that the time spent is reasonable.

Company phones may be used for an occasional personal call, providing the call is kept as short as possible. The reason is simple: the phones are a key link for customers and if the phones (and you) are tied up on personal business, then that reduces our ability to properly serve our customers. We ask that you schedule your calls (and please ask your family to do the same when calling you) so the calls don't take place during the busy times of the company's work day, and particularly not during the busy times of your work day. This also applies to personal (non-company) cell phones.

All personal wireless communication devices must be used with discretion during your work day.

Company cell phones are for business use only. Cell phone bills will be monitored for personal calls.

5. Lunch Break

Thirty (30) minutes is provided for lunch breaks. Your lunch break will be scheduled by your Supervisor and will occur no later than after five (5) hours of work. Please appreciate that because we deal with the public, your lunchtime may not occur at traditional lunch times.

6. Food and Beverages

We have a designated lunch room for food and beverages. This area is for your use and yours to maintain. We ask and insist that when you are finished your lunch, you clean up your cups, mugs, and plates, etc. Also please do not leave dirty cups around the shop.

While you may drink beverages throughout the workday, do not place beverages where they can be bumped and soak equipment or materials. It is also expected that you do not drink beverages in front of customers, and to keep cups, etc., out of sight of customers, particularly at the front desk. While you are welcome to drink your beverages while working we must ask that you do not eat or have food at the workstations as food stains can easily come in contact with customer materials.

7. Environment

a) Non-Smoking / Non-Vaping

The premises at Dominion Blue are smoke free. We provide a smoke-free environment for our Team Members not only because of legislations but more importantly for health reasons.

The City of Vancouver (Health Bylaw 9535) implemented a six-metre no-smoking buffer zone applying to all public places and work places. The areas within six-metres of the perimeter of the customer service areas as well as areas around doorways, windows that open, and all air intakes cannot be used as areas to smoke.

b) Non-Scented

To respect Team Member wellness, we maintain a non-scented environment. Please refrain from wearing scented products or perfumes to avoid allergic reaction in others.

8. Work Safe BC and You

A safe and healthy work environment is essential for the well-being of everyone at Dominion Blue. Our goal is to provide a risk free environment and, in that respect, we ask that everyone be safety-conscious.

We require all of our Team Members to meet Work Safe BC standards in various matters. Everyone, including you, your Supervisor, the Production Manager amongst others, are always responsible for safety on the job.

Work Safe BC publishes standards for your protection and for the protection of those around you, while you are on the job. Also, while you are on duty, you are covered by Work Safe BC insurance.

(Please note that Work Safe BC premiums are paid by the company. Aside from our goal of providing a safe work place for everyone, a safe work place will minimize claims on the insurance which in turn keeps our rates down.)

This insurance provides benefits to any Team Member injured while on the job.

The Work Safe BC Regulation & Policy Act provides you (and everyone else in the company) with responsibilities as well as benefits, and the two main responsibilities are:

- 1) It is essential that you report promptly to your Supervisor and First Aid Attendant* any injury or accident, no matter how minor it may appear at the time, if it occurs on the job.
- 2) It is critical that you report promptly to your Supervisor anything you believe to be a safety hazard, either to yourself or to others.

The names of your First Aid Attendants are on the bulletin board in the lunchroom

Work Safe BC also has clothing safety standards, which we enforce, particularly as they involve hair and closed-toed shoes when our people are working around machinery.

Any safety equipment that you require will be provided to you as well as access to Work Safe BC regulations upon request (please ask your supervisor or administration). Safety videos are also available; please ask your Supervisor if you wish to view these.

9. Company Vehicles

If you have an accident while driving one of the company vehicles you must complete an accident report. This report along with any statements made to police must be submitted to your Supervisor within twenty-four (24) hours of the incident if not sooner. All of the required documentation can be found inside a binder in your vehicle. You will be required to attend any claims meeting with ICBC.

If you detect any mechanical problem with a company vehicle, you must inform your Supervisor immediately upon your return to your workplace.

Company Benefits

1. Benefits Program

After 90 days of continuous service, you will be covered by our insurance and benefit plan. Please complete and return to your supervisor the Sun Life Enrolment Forms included in the appendix of this manual. Detailed information about this program and the coverage can be viewed on the company's Intranet.

We are pleased to offer this program to all Team Members. It's a joint program whereby the company pays 80% of the premium, and the employees pay 20% of the premium. The actual premium paid by each individual will be a small amount compared to the benefits. In the fourth month of employment the applicable benefit plan deductions will appear on your pay cheque.

Take time to review the many benefits offered, which even includes aspects for travel and emergency assistance. Please visit Sun Life's website for more information: www.mysunlife.ca

2. Dominion Blue Product Service Discounts

We'll give you the highest discount price on completed work if you buy any of our reprographic services, providing they are purchased for your personal use. All staff purchases are on a cash basis.

Time Off (Other than for Sick Leave, this section does not apply to Part-time Team Members)

Dominion Blue recognizes that there may be times when an emergency, illness or other personal matter of an urgent nature makes it necessary to be absent from work. It is our intention to ensure that our employees are provided the time they need to recover / attend to their obligations while maintaining their employment at Dominion Blue. Outlined below are our policies with respect to time off. These policies may be changed in whole or part at any time. We will notify you of the changes as they occur.

This section applies only to permanent team members; part-time team members are eligible only for sick leave (see Section 1 – a) Sick Leave)

1) Leaves

a) Sick Leave

Sick pay is a benefit to be used when you are sick and unable to come to work. As the good health of our team members is very important to us, our policy will cover “sick” days as per the following:

- a. Permanent Team Members are eligible for up to six (6) “sick” days off work per year. These days may also be used for your medical and dental appointments and must not be treated as an entitlement.
- b. Part-time Team Members (after 90 days of employment) are eligible for up to five (5) paid days per year.

When you are unable to attend work due to a personal illness or injury, you must call your supervisor as soon as possible during the work day. Depending on your work plan for that day you may need to provide information to your supervisor or co-worker regarding deadlines and deliverables.

Dominion Blue reserves the right to require a doctor’s note or certificate of your absence due to illness that extends over two (2) consecutive working days.

b) Medical or Dental Appointments

We recognize that it is not always possible to schedule medical and dental appointments during non-business hours. However, team members are encouraged to schedule these appointments either before or after work or during the lunch break in order to minimize disruption to the workday. In the event that this is not possible, in non-emergency situations, please attempt to make the dental or medical appointment within the first or last hour of your work day. In all cases, you must advise your Supervisor in advance of these appointments. In addition, you are required to complete the Absentee Form for payroll purposes.

Please be mindful that employee absences during working hours can impact on customer service or team member perception.

Note: With prior Supervisor Approval, you have the option of making up the time-off for appointments during your work day or having these hours charged against your Sick Day Bank.

c) Bereavement Leave

Upon request, a leave of absence of up to 3 days with pay will be granted to any permanent Team Member for the purpose of attending or making funeral arrangements for the funeral of an immediate family member. If you learn of a death in your immediate family during your workday, you are granted sympathy leave for the balance of the day.

Immediate family is defined as spouse, child, mother, father, sister or brother, grandchild or grandparent.

If you choose to, you may draw up to three (3) paid days of leave from your Sick Leave Bank for the time that you are away from your scheduled shifts.

Upon request, additional time off for complications, such as travel or family responsibilities may be granted if warranted and is to be taken from vacation time or as a leave of absence.

d) Personal Leave Incentive

For our permanent team members, as an incentive to maintain good health, if you don't use all of the sick days allotted, Dominion Blue will pay you a portion as a bonus as our way of saying "thank you" for staying on the job. How it works for you depends on how long you've been with us.

- You are eligible for sick pay benefits after 90 days of continuous service as a permanent Team Member. (Within the first 90 days of continuous service, you are not eligible for sick pay regardless of the reason.)
- After 90 days of continuous service as a permanent Team Member, but less than a year, you will be eligible for 5 sick days and will be allotted an additional sick day upon your tenth (10th) month of continuous employment and will receive your regular pay for those days.
- After twelve (12) months of continuous service, you're allotted six (6) days per year. This cycle is based on your "employment year", specifically from your start date.
- Incentive: After twelve (12) months of continuous employment, for each unused sick day for that year (Dec 1st to the following Nov 30th), you will be paid a bonus of a ½ day's pay. This bonus will be paid in December prior to the holiday season.
- For payroll and record retention, it is imperative that as soon as you return to work, you complete an Absentee Form (available at the Time Clock) and give it to your Supervisor to authorize.

2) Maternity and Parental Leave

Parents can take unpaid time off work when they have a baby or adopt a child. Employees must submit a written request to their employer at least four weeks before taking maternity or parental leave.

Leave of absence for maternity and parental leave will be granted pursuant to the provisions of the Employment Standards Act as follows:

- A pregnant employee is entitled up to 17 consecutive weeks of unpaid pregnancy leave plus a further 61 consecutive weeks of unpaid parental leave for a total of 78 consecutive weeks of unpaid maternity/parental leave.
- A birth parent or an adopting parent is entitled to unpaid parental leave of up to 62 consecutive weeks. The request must be made in writing to your Supervisor within 78 weeks of a baby being born or a child being placed. We will hold your job and seniority for you during that time.

A request for pregnancy or parental leave must be made in writing to your Supervisor (and supported by a note from your doctor) at least 4 weeks before the proposed start date. The leave must begin on or before the date the baby is born but no earlier than thirteen (13) weeks before the expected birth date. A written request well in advance of the date you will be going on leave will help avoid any misunderstandings. If you wish to return to work earlier than six weeks after the birth, you must submit your request in writing at least one week before the proposed return date.

For everybody's protection, but particularly your own, we have the option of requiring you to begin your maternity leave earlier than requested if we believe you can't reasonably perform your duties.

While on maternity or parental leave, your job and seniority will be held for you. If your leave extends beyond the seventy-eight (78) weeks (maternity/parental leave), or sixty-two (62) weeks (parental leave) your job and seniority may not be guaranteed.

Employees cannot accumulate vacation time and are not entitled to collect sick pay during maternity or parental leave.

Should you require assistance in applying for EI benefits, contact Payroll once the birth date has been estimated, keeping in mind that there is a two (2) week waiting period before benefit payments are paid.

3) Jury Duty

Any Team Member who is called to serve as a juror, or who is subpoenaed witness, on the days when he/she would otherwise have been scheduled to work shall be excused for such service without loss of position.

Should you be called for jury duty, please advise your supervisor as soon as possible. You will be granted as much leave as the court requires. While on jury duty, you will be paid by the court.

4) Statutory Holidays

Following B.C. Employment Standards, Team Members who work at least 15 working days within the thirty (30) days immediately before the statutory holiday will qualify for the paid day.

Following B.C. Employment Standards, eligible Team Members will receive paid time off for the following ten (10) statutory holidays:

- Up to 5 years - 2 weeks (10 days)
- After 5 years - 3 weeks (15 days)
- After 10 years - 4 weeks (20 days)

Part-time Team members will be paid 4% vacation pay each year on November 30th (or the Friday before when November 30th fall on a weekend) or on your final cheque if you leave your job at Dominion Blue. The percentage is calculated on gross pay to that date.

PURPOSE

DOMINION BLUE REPROGRAPHICS is committed to the safety of its employees, customers, and the communities in and through which it operates. SCOPE AND APPLICATION

This policy applies to all employees while engaged in company business or working on company premises. Violation of the policy is grounds for disciplinary action including termination. Because of the significant risks involved in the performance of certain jobs, specifically operating the company's machinery and motor vehicles, these roles have been identified as safety-sensitive positions, and employees holding them are required to meet additional standards.

- Fitness for Work/ Duty - in the context of this policy it means being able to safely and acceptably perform assigned duties without limitations or risk of limitations due to the use or after-effects of alcohol, cannabis/marijuana, illicit drugs or medications.
- Safety Sensitive Positions - those where the duties or responsibilities of the position, if improperly exercised, could reasonably be expected to result in a serious accident or incident affecting the health or safety of employees, contractors, customers, the public or the environment, or causing property damage. This definition includes all employees who are required to rotate through or regularly relieve in safety-sensitive positions.

Requirement to submit to Testing:

The company is entitled to test candidates for employment or for promotional opportunities. Employees may be tested in the event there is reasonable possibility that drug or alcohol use contributed to a workplace accident or near-miss. An employee may also be subjected to testing where there are reasonable grounds to believe that the employee may be impaired while working (e.g. smell of alcohol or cannabis/marijuana, slurring words while speaking, loss of balance, reduced motor skills).

Testing procedure:

The company employees who are required to submit to testing will be tested for alcohol and to a 12-panel drug test for all categories of testing. Testing standards will be consistent with occupational health standards established for similar industrial premises. Testing will be for the following drugs:

Barbiturates	Opiates	Phencyclidine
Propoxyphene	Benzodiazepines	Cannabis/Marijuana

PREVENTION

All employees are expected to read and understand this policy and place a priority on workplace safety.

No employee with an alcohol or drug problem will be disciplined for voluntarily requesting help in overcoming his/her problem, if the help is requested prior to any circumstance in which they have been notified to report for a test under this policy. However, full participation in pre-treatment, treatment and aftercare activities is mandatory. This does not eliminate the requirement for maintenance of satisfactory performance levels.

The company will not permit an employee to continue to work in a safety sensitive position if there is a risk of impairment. Please note that there is no requirement to establish actual impairment before we prohibit you from continuing to work.

The regular or chronic use of, dependency upon or addiction to, any substance (drugs or alcohol) by any employee must be reported to Dominion Blue.

You must report this to your immediate supervisor or General Manager or Human Resources management. This includes regular or chronic, legal use of cannabis/marijuana. We acknowledge our duty to accommodate any dependency or addiction. We will ensure you obtain the necessary treatment to deal with your dependency or addiction. You will be required to follow the recommended course of treatment and upon return to work you will be expected to follow return to work conditions as may be reasonably established by health care and addiction specialists.

Failure to disclose to the company regular or chronic drug use, dependency upon, or addiction to any substance will generally result in termination from employment.
